

Citrus to get toes tapping at Fringe

6 February 2008

Fresh new Adelaide arts company, Citrus Entertainment, is set to present a cool evening of swing, blues and Broadway hits premiering at the 2008 Adelaide Fringe.

Featuring the smooth voiced, Chris Eaton, 'A Bit of Swing, Blues & Broadway' will leave you humming and toe tapping, long after the last notes have played.

Eaton is renowned for successful performances at cabaret venues such as 'The Weimar Room', and starring in theatre productions, such as 'South Pacific', '42nd Street' and 'HMS Pinafore' where comments from critics include:

"...Chris Eaton's lofty voice and star continue to rise..." – Matt Byrne, Messenger Newspapers

"The top-notch cast includes sweet-voiced Chris Eaton..." – Rod Lewis, Messenger Newspapers

Eaton will delight audience members with his confident, charming manner and sublime vocals, presenting both lively upbeat and stirring soft numbers in his diverse repertoire.

Jazz accompaniment is provided by Daniel Brunner and his five-piece band, most recently appearing in a celebrated return season of 'Blues in the Night', with praise from reviews, including:

"The band's music ... is tight, bluesy and a joy on its own..." – Stephanie Johnson, Adelaide Theatre Guide

Eaton and the band are sure to please, with a selection of fresh and renowned numbers spanning the three genres, including "This Can't Be Love", "Mack the Knife" and "Good Morning Blues".

With these high-class performers delivering a wide variety of thrilling music presented for your absolute enjoyment, this is a night of entertainment that you certainly can't afford to miss.

What:	A Bit of Swing, Blues & Broadway
Featuring:	Chris Eaton and Daniel Brunner's five piece band
Venue:	Upstairs at The Stag Hotel Rundle Street, Adelaide
When:	27 February - 1 March 2008, 7pm
Cost:	$20, Groups 6+ $15 (service fee additional)
Bookings:	Via Fringetix on 1300 FRINGE or online at www.adelaidefringe.com.au

For further information, photos and interviews, please contact:

Nikki Gaertner on 0401 136 077 or nikki@citrusentertainment.com.au
or visit www.citrusentertainment.com.au